CORSICANA, TEX., NOV. 10, 1942

RANK AND FILE

The views of Woodrow Wilson have been vindicated in more than one respect since the war began. Not the least valid point that he made was on the importance of the average man. He said:

"As I look back on the process of history, I see this written over every page: that the nations are renewed from the bottom, not from the top; that the genius which springs from the ranks of unknown men is the genius which renews the youth and energy of the people. The utility, the vitality, the fruitage of life does not come from the top to the bottom; it comes, like the natural growth of a great tree, from the soil, up through the trunk into the branches to the foliage and the fruit. The great, struggling, unknown masses of the men who are at the base of everything are the dynamic force that is lifting the levels of society. A nation is as great, and only as great, as her rank and file."

The greatness of this rank and file is being seen at Stalingrad.

FOOD FOR NAZI ARMY

The Germans will eat, even if the rest of Europe starves. This Nazi policy is well known. Less familiar, but getting borne into the German consciousness, is the other doctrine that if there must be a choice, the German army will eat and keep warm even if the rest of Germany starves and freezes. Last winter not merely the conquered countries, but Germans as well, had to strip themselves almost entirely of their warm clothing to keep the army from freezing in Russia. Now the situation is worse, and suffering will be also.

It recalls the advice given to his sons by the Roman Emperor Septimius Severus: "Enrich the army and scorn the rest." So long as the army is loyal, not even starvation can bring about successful revolution. But how long will even a well-fed army fight against its fathers and brothers?

ELEANOR'S FEET

It seems to be a moot question whether the President's wife and First Lady of this haughty land is really walking around London on her uppers, with paper stuffed in her shoes for protection against the chilly pavements. Logically it might be true, for she admits having flown over scantily shod, and she has done a lot of tramping. And it can be said, with mingled amusement and pride, that Eleanor is capable of such a Spartan performance.

She deserves credit, at any rate for not seeking special privileges in London, but taking pot luck with food and everything else. That is made easy, to be sure, in a democratic monarchy where the King and Queen themselves are voluntarily on the same scanty rations as the common herd. But some American visitors in London have not been so modest in their requirements.

Pity the poor newspaper whose headline was meant to read, "Bombs Hit Poe." Instead it appeared, "Bombs Hit Toe."

Those ships being launched when you stand under the bow, seem almost as tall as a fashionable bride with her train.

Edgar A. Guest

The Poet of the People

UNDER FREEDOM ONLY.

These are what all men must seek
Day by day and week by week,
Month by month and year by year:
Peace and age untouched by fear.

Peace to use God-given strength
Through the prime of manhood's length
And when old age ends the scene
Comfort and a mind serene

These are joys that cannot be
Bread their tables to supply.
Health for loved ones day by day,
Love and faith for come what may.

These are joys that cannot be
Lost to earn them men are free.
Whosoever tyrants reign,
All is heartache, grief and pain.

TELLING BAD NEWS

It is sometimes necessary to conceal war news for a time, in order to avoid giving the enemy useful information. But there is a feeling lately that too much concealment has been practiced. Most Americans have felt "let down" by the belated admission that several of the Tokyo flyers had not returned and were Japanese prisoners in occupied China. Likewise by facts tardily revealed regarding serious losses in the Pacific.

When there are strategic ends served by such concealment, of course the public doesn't expect immediate publicity. But it is heartening and dangerous to have important news indefinitely prolonged. People don't want to be treated like children. They can take the bad news along with the good, and prefer it that way. It is better to get the blunt truth than to lose confidence in their government or military leaders, as they do when there is anything that looks like deception.

Generally speaking, the more quickly and fully the truth is told about war developments, both good and bad, the more loyally people will support their government and fighting forces. Fortunately the government has begun to realize this.

HOURS AND VICTORY

There is probably enough man-power and woman-power in this country both to operate the war industries at capacity and to handle the farm crops. The essential thing is to get this big reservoir of human power fully on the job, and to keep it on the job for enough hours a day.

This latter condition especially demands serious effort. Americans are working in far greater numbers than ever before, but on the average they are not yet working enough hours a day to get the necessary work done. And the working time is held back from natural extension by the heavy overtime pay demanded, when workers are asked to work more than 35 or 40 hours a week.

More and more it is asked, by realistic people who understand the peril in which this nation stands, what good so-called "labor gains" in the way of shorter hours and higher pay are going to be if we get licked. And while liberal wages are conceded as natural and proper at this time, the principle of time-and-a-half pay for overtime (above a very low basic working-week) is more and more criticized.

The average working week in Britain is not 40 hours but 57. Forty-eight the British find, is a good standard for maintaining efficiency. In Germany it is 60 and in Japan 70 hours. It is an open question whether we can beat our enemies with such a handicap.

"Cowards die many times before their death; the brave man only tastes of death but once," says a Shakespearean hero. Yet isn't the bravest man the one who fights in spite of his fear?

Whoever named the Mediterranean Sea knew what he was doing, it's certainly "in the middle" now.

There's nothing untimely about football games. They're fine practice for the real thing.

Now the long-suffering British in Africa are showing Hitler how to dish it out.

HARVEST MOON—1942

OPENING OF SOLDIER HOSPITALITY CENTER LARGELY ATTENDED

Hundreds of Corsicana citizens attended the open house for the Service Men's Hospitality Center Friday night and expressed their wholehearted approval of the attractive building and furnishings for the entertainment of all men in the armed forces.

Project of the Corsicana Recreation Board, the Center is located at 114 South Clinton street in the Louise Pace King building, and is complete in every detail, due to the untiring work of the various committees and the generosity of local citizens in contributing to the building.

Colorful and gay furnishings, including couches, chairs, reading and game tables, a piano, radios, record player and a snack bar give the room the appearance of a gracious and hospitable home. Rose, chairperson, and crew are the outstanding feature. An attractive color scheme is also used there including draperies and maps pinned to the wall along the staircase.

The Center was artistically decorated with flowers for the opening Friday night sent by various citizens and firms of the city. A program was given with Mrs. W. K. Steele, president of the Recreation Board, making a short talk, expressing her appreciation to all who have worked to make the Center a success. Mrs. Steele read a telegram from Mrs. Kin, daughter of the building for a total of one year, which expressed her regret in being unable to attend and wished the group success.

Mrs. Steele said the Center is the result of many months of planning and two months of hard work and was made possible through the co-operation of all interested.

Mayor Calhoun spoke, introducing Mayor John C. Calhoun, Mrs. Steele spoke of the many humanitarian projects made possible in the city during the mayor's administration. Mayor Calhoun spoke briefly, dedicating the Service Men's Hospitality Center to "all service men who pass this way" with the hope that all will use and enjoy it. He paid tribute to Mrs. Steele for her outstanding civic work and interest and as the founder of the Center.

Lloyd Kerr, chairman of the program committee, for the occasion, then presented the Cadet Quintet, including five aviation cadets from Air Activities who entertained the group with several selections. Composed of Jim Wiggins, Chet Welch, Tommy Wiggins, Harvey Wayne and Ed Weber, the quintet sang "She's a Grand Old Flag," an original composition by Wiggins and Wiggins, "Here's to the Cadets" and "White Christmas." The "Army Air Corps" was the encore given by the boys. Mrs. O. W. Holmes accompanied them. Cadets Wiggins and Welch

TRIBUTES ON SATURDAY FOR MISS ROBERTS, NATIVE CORSICANA

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Corley Chapel for Miss Bonnie Kate Roberts, 23, native of Corsicana but a resident of San Antonio for more than 25 years, who died at her home here Thursday.

Rites were conducted by the Rev. W. R. Miller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Interment was in Oakwood cemetery.

Miss Roberts was a niece of Mrs. George Whittle of this city, and a granddaughter of the late Rev. E. L. Armstrong, Methodist minister here for a number of years.

Surviving are two brothers, Everett Roberts and Elliott Roberts, both of San Antonio.

Funeral services were held at Caldwell, White, Fred White, Edgar Metcalf, Lister Tatum and Joe Gibson.

LIGHTS FAIL DURING GAME BETWEEN STATE HOME AND GROESBECK

The State Home-Groesbeck game was declared a no contest by the officials when the lights went out just before play was resumed at the half, it was announced Saturday morning by Coach Westfield of the Home. The game was played at Groesbeck.

The score stood 13 to 0 in favor of Groesbeck when the game was called. Over two inches of rain fell just prior to and during the game and, in some manner the lights at the field became shorted and burned out.

The Groesbeck officials refused to replay the game and the results will be decided by the district committee, Coach Westfield said.

The conference only four games necessary and Groesbeck has five on their schedule and if the game is forfeited the Goats could still win the championship of the district.

The Lads kept the Groesbeck camp deep in their own territory during the first quarter. In the second quarter, however they capitalized on a poor kick and after a few plays often got back for a second yard for a touchdown.

The second touchdown was set up by a poor kick by the Lads.

CORSICANA AGAIN IN LINE TO SECURE FEDERAL PROJECT

MAKING EFFORT SECURE WAR PLANT OF UNDISCLOSED NATURE

Members of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce were informed of extensive efforts put forth by that organization during the past two months in securing a large government war plant, exact nature of which cannot be disclosed at a special meeting Saturday morning.

They were told by Manager Robert G. Dillard and Joe Butler, chairman of the industrial committee, that the proposed site for the plant had received the approval of district and regional engineers at Galveston and Dallas and was now being considered by the War Relocation Authority in Washington. Decision of the Washington board will be final.

Others Seeding Project.

Chairman Butler cautioned against undue optimism, pointing out that two other sites, located in two other cities, were also being considered along with the Corsicana area. These competing sites offer excellent possibilities.

Chairman Butler said.

While the exact nature of the project cannot be disclosed at this early date, officials of the Chamber of Commerce asserted that everything possible to secure the plant had already been done and acknowledged unqualified co-operation from a number of Corsicana and in compiling data concerning every conceivable facility. Tribute was paid and a vote of appreciation extended to Sam B. Werner of the Rock Island Lines; William Elliott, local engineer; W. B. Waddell, title expert; R. W. Blucher, engineer; Dr. J. W. David, local health officer; Miss Hallie Linker, county tax assessor and collector; Ed Dillard, head of the local AAA; Jack Springfield, representative of the Southern Pacific and Cotton Belt Lines, and Mr. Ferguson, chief conservationist of the Navarro-Hill soil conservation district.

Three proposed sites for the plant were discussed by Galveston army engineers before a suitable location was discovered. The approved site covers 1,400 acres with unlimited space for expansion. It secured, the population of Corsicana will be increased by an estimated 12,000. Personnel will include 12,000 army officers and enlisted men alone, in addition to an indeterminate number of civilian employees who will constitute the major portion of the plant's personnel.

Recognition was given Robert Dillard, Chamber of Commerce manager, for extensive surveys, reports, and similar detailed data, and for securing the plant in a short time limit. Dillard accompanied war department engineers on large scale surveys of all sections of the county and spent several days and parts of several nights in compiling abstracts, land descriptions, utility facilities, records, titles etc. The myriads of surveys were carried on for almost two months.

Closely working with Dillard of the project were Chairman Butler, P. H. Harvey, Jr., president of the chamber, as well as a number of directors and others.

Monday to the commanding officer of Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La., as a captain in the U. S. Army Medical Corps Air Forces. Capt. Sneed graduated from Wortham High and Trinity University, before taking his medical degree at Tulane in 1922. He came to Corsicana in 1924 and has been connected with the Navarro Clinic since its opening in 1927. He is the son of Mrs. K. W. Sneed and the late Dr. Sneed of Wortham. His wife and little daughter accompanied Capt. Sneed to Shreveport.

INFORMATION GIVEN ON REGISTRATION IN GASOLINE RATIONING

Those connected with the approaching gasoline rationing program were given detailed information concerning registration and the issuance of A, B, and C, as well as other type books by Ed Schmitz, representative of the state OPA, in a meeting Saturday morning at the court house.

Attending were school teachers, who will register next Thursday, and the issuance of A, B, and C, as well as other type books by Ed Schmitz, representative of the state OPA, in a meeting Saturday morning at the court house.

Registration of motorist will get under way next Thursday and continue through Saturday, Nov. 12-14. Schools throughout the county have been enlisted in the program and will handle all registrations for regular gasoline allocations.

Registration will take place at the nearest elementary schools. The high schools will not be used, according to a recent announcement by Superintendent W. H. Norwood.

The Corsicana schools will close for the registration. County schools are expected to follow suit, although no announcement has been made to this effect. However, the decision to dismiss classes has been relegated to the individual schools.

Chairman Wright of the rationing board warned motorists of considerable inconvenience and delay in securing their rationing book if they did not dispose at once of excess tires.

The "freeze" on all 1942 model four-door hard-top Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth sedans has been extended by the OPA. It was officially disclosed today by Chairman Wright.

Crippled Children Receive Treatment

On October 28th, Mrs. H. G. Brown placed Mrs. Nowlan of Dawson in the Scottish Rite Hospital at Dallas. Odessa Hunter was brought home from Scottish Rite Hospital the same day and J. E. Carrey was taken to Baylor Hospital for X-ray treatment.

On November 4th, Glenna O'Rourke was taken to Dr. Sims Driver for measurement for brace. J. E. Carrey entered Baylor Hospital for further treatment.

Corsicana friends of little Carolyn Ann Moore will be interested in knowing that she is at home following a month's stay at Baylor Hospital, where she underwent an operation. Mrs. Brown reports that she is improving rapidly, but will return to the hospital at a later date for further treatment.

Rainfall for Week Heavy.

The rainfall here Friday night was 1.10 inches. Earlier in the week 1.15 inches fell making a total of 2.25 inches for the week.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE WORKERS WEAR ARM BANDS ON SATURDAY

Citizens of Corsicana and Navarro County had a chance to become better acquainted with their air raid wardens all-day Saturday when over 600 civilian defense workers appeared for the first time in public with arm bands identifying their respective service unit.

The arm bands will be worn by members of the civilian defense every Saturday in accordance with instructions issued recently by Chief Warden W. E. McKinney.

Purpose of this practice is to impress upon the general public the meaning of civilian defense and keep the work of that organization ever in the minds of the citizens. This may prove of great importance in event of a sudden emergency, McKinney explained.

FOURTH SON LOCAL WOMAN ENLISTS IN U. S. AIR FORCE

Mrs. Louis Yates, 2102 West Fifteenth avenue, became one of Navarro county's Four-Star Mothers when her fourth son, Jesse T. Yates, 705 North Tenth street, enlisted in the air forces last Saturday.

Her other three sons, Jerome, Jack and James Yates, are already in the armed services. The former two are in the air forces stationed at Ellington Field, Houston, while James is stationed at Camp Bowie, Brownwood.

Jesse's wife and three-weeks old daughter, Linda, will remain in Corsicana for the time being.

Ben Miller and son, Charles, employed at the N. A. aircraft plant in Dallas, spent two days at their home here the first of the week.

Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Harrison and their two daughters were dinner guests in the Cloud Home, and as the evening was Home Guard drill night, Lieut. Cloud donned his uniform and was bidding adieu to his guests when the party proper arrived on masse.

The Thanksgiving motif was in evidence throughout the house, with the mantel banked high with cornucopia, or horn of plenty, from which all manner of fruits, vegetables, nuts and other goodies cascaded. Entertainment planned for the coronal group, who was built around the horn of plenty idea, and a delightful old-time revival of parlor games were enjoyed.

At the dinner, a big birthday cake inherited with the date and name of the honoree, served as centerpiece on the linen covered table, while burning tapers on either side added festivity to the scene.

A pre-Thanksgiving dinner was served with all the trimmings, and the after dinner guests were served delicious punch and cookies later in the evening.

A presentation of useful gifts added the final surprise of the day, and cries of "surprise, surprise" and "Happy Birthday to You."

The guest list included Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. White, Mrs. A. R. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Brister, Mr. and Mrs. Finis McCluney.

Trio Service Sons Are Expected Home
R. S. Flynn, who has three sons in the army, is expecting them to visit home within the next few weeks. Carl, stationed in California, as home now on a furlough, Robert stationed in Massachusetts gets a furlough starting Nov. 12 and Charles, who is in the navy, writes that he will be home soon.

SELECTIVE SERVICE REGISTRANTS MUST GET BOARD O.K.

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Before enlisting in the navy, marine corps, or Coast Guard, selective service registrants first must obtain a statement from their local board certifying that they are not essential men engaged in dairy, livestock or poultry farm production. Announcing the new order, selective service state headquarters said yesterday that a registrant is not required to obtain a release from his local board to enlist in the navy but must furnish the statement of classification which entitles him to be accepted. Brig. Gen. J. Watt Page, Texas director, announced meanwhile that November selective service quotas in several Texas counties have been readjusted after correction of reports by local boards. Page said that complaints of alleged discrimination in calls "have been fully cleared up." A delegation of East Texas draft board

Completes Course Pre-Flight School

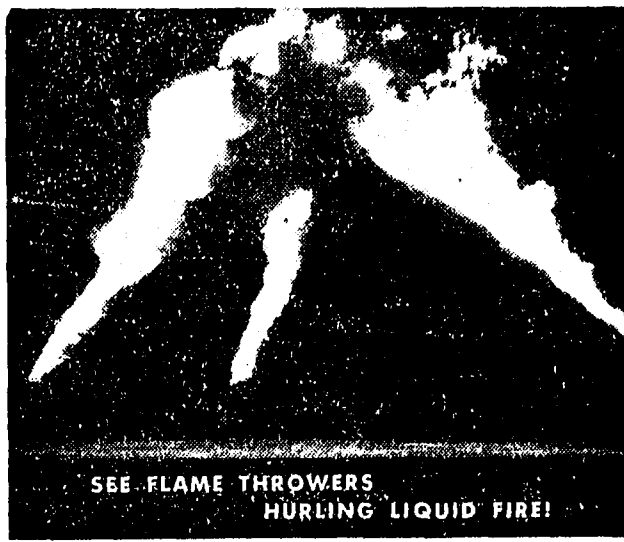

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 7.—(Spl.)—Naval Aviation Cadet Gerald members recently protested to Page over what it termed inequalities in draft quotas for certain East Texas counties.

Reece Chaney has completed his course at the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School here and has been ordered to the Naval Reserve Air Base at Glenview, Ill., for primary flight training. Chaney, son of Doc Chaney, Embury, Texas, is a former student of North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, Texas.

Greatest spectacle ever staged! COTTON BOWL -- Nov. 10 thru 13th

The great Army War Show opens in Dallas at the Cotton Bowl on November 10 and runs through November 13. Sponsored by the War Department, the Army War Show presents your Army in Action!

This is your chance to see 2,000 picked men of the United States Army demonstrate modern methods of warfare with the latest fighting equipment available. Searchlights with millions of candlepower spot wheeling airplanes in the night sky. Tanks crash into action. Mortars and heavy artillery boom. Machine guns chatter. Planes dive and swoop with startling furore.

The net proceeds of the Army War Show go direct to the Army Emergency Relief Fund to provide needed help promptly for the families of Army men.

Get your tickets in this city at announced locations or at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

A Serious Milk Shortage

Is predicted for America if something is not done immediately to prevent it. Within the next twelve months the demand for our Armed Forces and our Allies will be very great. This will mean that the supply for the civilian population will be cut materially unless production is increased.

We suggest to the farmers of Navarro County that they immediately investigate the possibility of increasing dairy herds. We will be glad to help plan such a program.

ROE IS APPOINTED DISTRICT ATTORNEY BY COMMISSIONERS

GOVERNOR STEVENSON PREVIOUSLY NAMED NOMINEE FOR POST

J. C. Roe, nominee as criminal district attorney, Monday morning was appointed to that office by the commissioners court following the reading of a telegram of resignation from Lieut. Charles T. Banister, U.S.R., by E. D. McCormick, county judge. Governor Coke R. Stevenson Friday appointed Roe to the office. Returns from the general election of Tuesday were received and declared by the commissioners.

Named by Governor. It was brought out in the discussion relative to the appointment that the question had been from Hill county about an appointment recently, and Roe requested appointment from the commissioners as a precautionary measure. The Secretary of the county had not issued the commission awaiting a ruling from the attorney general on the Hill county question. It was stated that the governor had appointed a criminal district attorney for Hill county who was not the nominee, and that the commissioners court there had raised the question of whether the criminal district attorney was the same as the one appointed by the governor, and plans to qualify and take office during the day.

Lieut. Banister in his telegram of resignation to Judge McCormick and the commissioners court, stated he would always be grateful to his Navarro county friends for honors given him. It was announced that the Texas Western office had been established in the C. L. Jester building on South Beaton street. Arrangements were made by Commissioners Gillen and Taylor. The former offices recently were destroyed by fire in the OOF Annex building on North Beaton street.

Claims were to be allowed during the day. There were several write-in campaigns in the general election Tuesday, according to the official canvass. Joe Daniel and W. J. (Jinks) Bryan ran to defeat Miles J. Armstrong for county treasurer, but Billie Lawrence won over A. H. Holt, Democratic nominee, 77 to 44 in Precinct 4. (Dawson) has been awarded the year star for "gallantry in action" against the enemy in the Southwest Pacific area.

Lieutenant General George C. Kennedy, commander of the allied forces in the Southwest Pacific area, announced silver stars for the awards, all but two of which covered heroic acts over New Guinea and New Britain and adjacent waters. General Kennedy's latest awards list announced silver stars for: First Lieutenant John S. Hancock, Halleyville, Oklahoma; First Lieutenant Raymond E. Holsey, Altus, Oklahoma; Corporal Joseph Ayles, Hita, Texas; Corporal William L. Hernandez, Breckenridge, Texas; Corporal Kikel D. White, Mexia, Texas.

Second Lieutenant Moore, navigator of a Flying Fortress, won the silver star for being "seen in alert and remaining at his station" throughout the running fight.

First Lieutenant Hancock, Fortress co-pilot, won his silver star for remaining "at his station during the 35-minute encounter" in aiding "in destroying seven enemy planes and scattering the others."

Corporal Connolly, Fortress rear gunner, "in spite of numerous attacks by enemy fighters, assisted in driving them off and aided in the successful completion of the missions."

Corporal Jones, Fortress rear gunner, won his silver star for participation in a highly successful bombing mission over enemy installations near Rabaul on August 12. Bombs from Jones' Fortress scored two direct hits on a large Japanese vessel, "despite heavy opposition from hostile fighters."

liquidation will be announced at this meeting.
Currently the debt stands at $400,000. Baptist churches over the state have contributed to a drive to wipe it out. More than half the amount already is in hand and Dr. W. W. Nelson of Dallas, executive secretary, said it appeared the remainder would be forthcoming. Not all the contributing churches have reported their collections.

Stand Against Liquor.

The expected Baptist stand against liquor probably will come during a report on civic righteousness Wednesday. For years Texas Baptists have spoken out against the use of liquor. Now that war has placed many army camps in the state, the Rev. M. Dunlap suggested the convention most probably will redouble its crusade.

Many missionaries will be on hand to join in the discussions on where they can be most effective now that the Far East is closed to them. Since Pearl Harbor the Far East has been virtually bereft of Baptist missionaries, although a few remain in unoccupied China.

Representatives Hutton Summers of Dallas will talk to the Brotherhood tonight. Other prominent speakers will be Dr. Louis D. Newton of Atlanta, Ga., Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas, and the Rev. E. C. Maddy of Richmond, Va. Southern Baptist foreign mission secretary.

Have Same Enemy.

"The Kaiser was a man who did not have the strength to see things through," Hitler said. "In me, however, Germany has a man who simply does not know the word capitulation."
"It is no coincidence that today we have the same enemy as in 1914-18. Then his name was Wilson. Today it is Roosevelt."

Hitler declared he had made his last peace offer in 1940 and said "we know the fate that awaits us if we lose and it is for this reason that we have not the remotest idea of compromise."

"Now there is only one thing left," he said. "One of two worlds must fall. We will not fall, consequently others must fall."

He admitted that the war had become difficult.

He explained his failure to take St. Paul's declaration that it was "not worth a second Verdun. The important thing is that no ship can come up the Volga."

It isn't possible he said, to achieve successes every week.

Shall Hold What He Has.

"What is necessary is that we should hold what we have. On that you can depend."

He said the axis had taken possession of raw materials which will "enable us to win the war under all circumstances." Germans were

Prominent Oklahoma Politician is Dead

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Hubert L. Bolen, chairman of the state tax commission, long prominent in Oklahoma politics, died at his home today after an illness of three weeks.

Bolen had been in ill health for some time. This morning he awakened suffering from a light fever and his condition rapidly grew worse, members of his household said.

Bolen, former state treasurer, formerly was collector of internal revenue in the Woodrow Wilson administration and was recognized as a political leader of the state's dry forces.

Fighting long distances from their homes, he added, "because we want to protect our homes." He said 350,000 Germans had been killed so far in the war.

Hitler claimed that his U-boats had sunk 24,000,000 tons of allied shipping and said Germany had more submarines than during the World War.

Referring to the smashing RAF blows against German cities, Hitler said "the moment will come when the enemy will find out that Germany's inventive genius has not been asleep. The enemy will receive such a reply that he will be overwhelmed and stupefied."

"I look into the future with confidence," Hitler said in concluding this 85-minute speech which was broadcast to many countries.

THE WAR TODAY

Roman empire has been expunged from the map of Africa, it will be the turn of the Italian homeland. The situation offers a temptation to speculate whether Italian resistance in the end will be any more wholehearted than the French in Morocco and Algeria. For the similarity between the status of France and Italy grows daily.

But it would be easy—and dangerous—to draw from the temper of Munich and Rome and from the manifold reports of Allied success the conviction that victory is just around the corner. The continent on which the Americans are landing is Africa, not Europe, and the successes being recorded for General Eisenhower's command are not against the real foe. The United States can well take pride and the United Nations draw high encouragement from this evidence of the ability of the American command to plan, prepare and carry through an undertaking so vast and so indicative of foresight, imagination and initiative.

But this campaign, after all, is merely one of prevention and application and in so far as it involves the killing of Frenchmen a "melancholy action," to borrow the phrase Winston Churchill applied to its prelude at Mers-el-Kebir more than two years ago. We will do well to ponder the remainder of that grim realist, Joseph Stalin, that only 15 Axis divisions are involved in Africa, a twentieth of the forces that face the Russians and are deployed to keep the rest of Europe in subjection.

But the beginning has been made. The United States marines—with a few hundred thousand of their American, British and Allied comrades—are on the way back to the Tripoli of their battle hymn. The next few weeks we may enjoy the pleasing spectacle of a friendly race between the Americans and General Montgomery's heroic British Eighth Army to determine which first enters Tripoli. But we must not let ourselves forget that the real job lies across the Mediterranean.

Cotton Farmers All Over South to Vote On Marketing Quotas

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 9.—(Spl.)—Cotton farmers all over the South go to the polls Saturday, December 12, to vote on cotton marketing quotas.

Cotton marketing quotas have been in effect for the past five years, the growers voting each year to use quotas as a means of insuring each grower his fair share of the available market for cotton, George Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee, pointed out in announcing the referendum date.

Last December, 80.4 per cent of the Texas growers voting favored quotas on the 1942 crop, while 92.9 per cent of the growers voting over the nation favored quotas.

Slaughter indicated that because of wartime conditions, the number of ballot boxes for this year's referendum would be considerably larger than the number in previous years. This move is intended to make it possible for all growers to get to the polls despite the transportation problem and the rush of war time food production.

Full information on the present cotton situation and the prospective demand for cotton next year will be provided farmers eligible to vote in the referendum, Slaughter said.

It is so true that the army and navy men like to think of their at-home girls as being docile and patient waiting for them and when they come on leave pamper them in that thought—it helps their ego! PATRIOTIC WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY NUMBER OF WOMEN

LARGE QUANTITY FIRST AID SUPPLIES TURNED OVER CIVILIAN DEFENSE

An instance of patriotic work by a group of local women without benefit of formal organization, meeting at the home of Mrs. W. D. Cross, 814 West Seventh Avenue, was revealed when a quantity of emergency necessities was tendered to the Navarro County Civilian Defense organization headed by Chief Warden W. E. McKinney. Among the articles turned over for emergency relief to the Civilian Defense are: some dozen quilts finished and being made, four dozen 6 and 8-inch four tall bandages ready for sterilization, a quantity of swabs, sponges, and other hospital and emergency equipment.

Equipment Needed.
Many things are needed for hospital emergency treatment, such as bandages, splints, bandages, etc. Mrs. Cross has pointed out, and the donation of such articles will be appreciated. Headquarters for the work is being maintained at the Cross home.

The emergency equipment as gathered, prepared and made by this group is to be turned over to the direction of the Civilian Defense organization anywhere in Navarro county for use in an emergency before the American Red Cross organization arrives and takes charge.

A formal organization is expected to be perfected within the near future, Chief Warden McKinney said, as a part of the Civilian Defense, and is open to anyone who desires to aid in this patriotic and worthy cause. McKinney was loud in his praise for the contribution and expansion of the Civilian Defense facilities in this direction, and made it plain that it had been carried out by the women as a patriotic work on their own initiative.

First Aid.
The collection of first aid and emergency necessities are being maintained at the Cross home and include all first aid exhibitions prepared with dolls as subjects.

Some 300 keys have been collected by the group for the Boy Scouts, and scrap collections of aluminum and other metals are taken, the group is being used to purchase additional materials for making quilts, bandages, and other things.

Mrs. Cross spent the summer on a farm program in East Texas where all types of meats, fruits, vegetables and other foodstuffs were prepared, canned, and saved, supervised by women.

Boy Scouts Board Of Review to Meet On Tuesday Night

The Boy Scouts board of review will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Educational building of the First Methodist Church. Karl Blackwell, chairman of the board of review, will preside.

The Court of Honor will meet next Monday night at 7:30 at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church. Judge E. D. McCormick will preside.

The public is invited to attend each of these meetings.

EVERY FARMER IN TEXAS SHOULD VOTE FOR COMMITTEEMEN

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 9.—(Spl.)—Every farmer in Texas should consider it a patriotic duty to participate in the election of county and community committeemen who will administer the AAA program during the coming year, according to George Slaughter, chairman, Texas AAA committee.

Farmers will meet in community meetings Friday, November 13, to elect community committeemen and delegates to a county convention. Convention delegates, meeting Saturday, November 14, will elect county committeemen.

"AAA committeemen next year, more than ever before, will play a vital role in American agriculture," Slaughter declared. "More and more important jobs are being handled by committeemen—jobs which are of great importance to the nation's wartime living. These jobs require that the men doing them be capable of doing them properly."

The State chairman reminded farmers that the men they elect to serve as chairman of their county AAA committee also will be chairman of their county USDA war board.

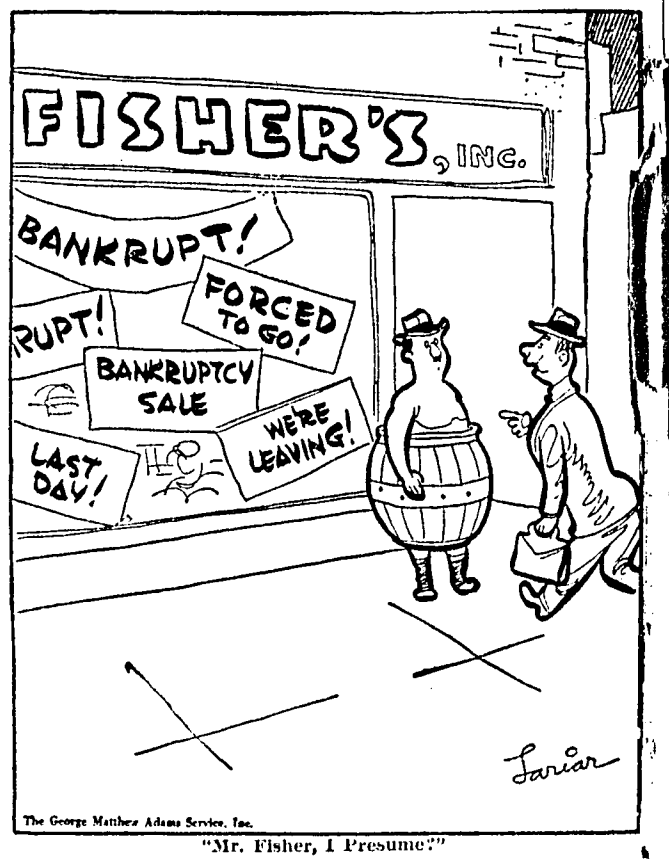

"He must be a leader who is capable of getting his job done expeditiously and efficiently," he pointed out. "In addition, he must be in a position to devote considerable time to AAA and war board work."

The number of community committeemen to be elected for next year will be nearly double the number elected in past years, as each committee will represent a smaller number of farmers.

TWO CONGRESSMEN FROM TEXAS URGED LONGER WORK WEEK

GOSSETT AND MAHON SAY ADMINISTRATION LABOR POLICY COSTLY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—A suspension of the 40-hour work week for the duration of the war has been urged by two Texas representatives who blamed the administration's labor policy as partially responsible for the surprising Republican gains in last Tuesday's election.

Speaking on the Texas Forum of the Air, prepared for broadcast yesterday on radio stations in their state, Representatives Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls and George Mahon of Colorado City expressed their views on the probable causes and effects of the halting.

Another legislator from Texas, Senator O'Daniel, who was not on the forum program, has offered legislation to carry out the suspension of the 40-hour work week, saying it is impeding the war effort.

Gossett declared that the 40-hour work week "is a disgrace to the American war effort" and recited figures showing workers in other warring nations worked from about 36 hours in Britain to approximately 77 hours weekly in Japan. Mahon asserted that the average work week in American industry now, including overtime, was only 42 hours.

Bundling and Uncertainty. Answering questions by Representative Wright Patman of Texas, Mahon said the Democratic election defeats "bunching and uncertainty" on the home front.

He charged that bureaucrats were responsible for the fire of the war, and declared that many of the bureaucrats were Republicans. Senator O'Daniel declared that "our people want to know why something is not being done in order that American industry can put in longer working hours during the serious crisis, and thus materially increase the production of much-needed war equipment for our fighting men."

O'Daniel observed that there was a time when the nation had a serious unemployment problem and that the 40-hour work week was passed then as a constructive and beneficial measure. "The 40-hour work week has created a fictitious and unnecessary manpower shortage by reason of the fact that in all industry outside of agriculture, the average work week is 42.8 hours, according to the latest government statistics," O'Daniel said, adding: "This means that 42,000,000 people are now performing a similar job which could be performed by 25,000,000 people if they would work 12 hours a day, six days a week. If that change were made, 17,000,000 men would be released for other services."

WAR FOCAL POINT OF SCIENCE MEETING AT COLLEGE STATION

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Focal point of the program for the 1942 meeting of the Texas Academy of Science Friday and Saturday at Texas A. and M. College, will be the war, according to academy President E. P. Cheatum, Southern Methodist University's biology professor, who said the meeting would include the following features:

Two symposiums, one led by Dr. Walter P. Taylor of the U. S. fish and wildlife service, and the other led by Dr. W. Blau, oil company research director.

Address by Mr. H. H. Ward, chairman of the Texas Wildlife Institute's conservation-education committee.

Reading of papers by E. H. Clapp, acting chief of the U. S. Forest Service; Dr. Homer P. Rainey, University of Texas president; and M. R. Wilson, chief of the National Extension Service.

SOLDIER FATALLY INJURED IN FALL DOWN EMBANKMENT

ABILENE, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Sgt. Stirling Froman, 23, member of a local training battalion at Camp Barkley here, was fatally injured yesterday when the ledge of a cliff along a highway north of San Angelo gave way and he plunged down an embankment.

Climbing back and forth, debris, Froman was taken to a San Angelo hospital, where he died a few hours later.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Froman of Chicago, Ill.

With him at the time of the accident were Sgt. Cornelius De Young, 23, a member of the Texas Coast Guard, and Sgt. Thomas Costanzo of Johnson City, Ill., and Miss Norma Johnson and Miss Dorothy Emery, the latter two of whom were friends visiting from Dallas.

De Young said the party had stopped to view the scenery from a vantage point, when the ground beneath Froman gave way.

Galveston Man Is Sentenced to Death

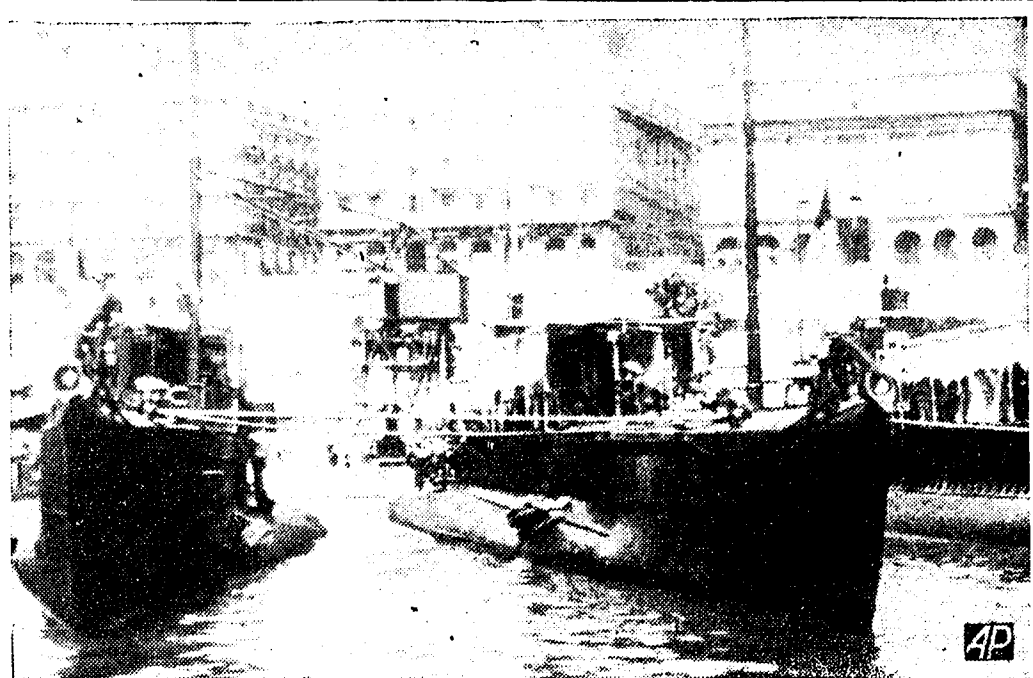

RICHMOND, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Leo Leroy of Galveston was sentenced here today to die in the electric chair before midnight on January 11, 1943.

Sentence was pronounced by District Judge M. S. Munson after Leroy, who had been convicted of murder here on November 6, 1941, had been brought from the Galveston county jail by Sheriff T. R. Roane and three deputies.

Leroy was convicted of killing Harry T. Phillips on Christmas morning, 1938, in a beachfront cafe in Galveston after the two had quarreled over use of a stool at the crowded cafe counter. Phillips was shot to death.

Texas Allowable. AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The average daily allowable for Texas oil wells in the week ended Nov. 7, was 1,434,798 barrels, a decrease of 11,361. Railroad Commission engineers reported today.

The number of wells decreased by 170 to 100,146.

FRENCH SUBMARINES AT ALGIERS—Undersea craft of the French navy are moored at a quay at Algiers, capital, seaport and largest city in Algeria. The Vichy radio said Nov. 8 that a quay at Algiers was burning, apparently having been fired by shells from an American destroyer.

INTERNATIONAL

The Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack flew over the harbor front, and Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's fighting men streamed ashore along with fliers of the RAF. American fighter planes already were poised on the capture of airbases around the city alert for axis air attacks from across the Mediterranean.

Darlan May Be Prisoner. Darlan, himself, may have been captured along with the city he surrendered. His fate was not disclosed immediately.

Elsewhere along the Algerian and Moroccan coasts on the Mediterranean and Atlantic, United States forces were reported moving speedily inland toward their objectives.

Resistance ordered by Vichy old Marshal Petain who professed "bewilderment and sadness" at the attack, seemed confined mostly to French naval and coast guard forces. Inland the French and native populations were greeting the Americans as friends.

The coastal defense bore the earmarks of mere token resistance, such as the French put up at Madagascar, sufficient only to keep the French homeland clear of Nazi retribution.

Ichy said the new American landings on the Moroccan coast were made at Agadir and Mogador, south of Casablanca, presumably late yesterday.

French troops rushed to the scenes of other landings were reported resisting the Americans who established beachhead wedges at Safi, 132 miles south of Casablanca, and at Fedhala, 12 miles north of Casablanca.

American Take Safi. The French acknowledged that at Safi the Americans had taken the town.

A violent naval battle has taken place off Casablanca, a Vichy communiqué declared. "Our naval losses were serious." It was at Casablanca where the new 35,000-ton French battleship Jean Bart was reported yesterday to have been damaged, along with other French ships, by allied torpedo bombers.

"At Oran," the communiqué said, "A large number of landings were effected to the east and west of the town, which is now almost completely encircled. Counterattacks are in progress. Our naval forces played a vigorous part in the defense. Two of our torpedo boats and on sleep were put out of action. Two enemy corvettes were sunk."

Was Gallagher, Associated Press correspondent with the AFP in Africa, reported that Oran, 250 miles west of Algiers, was the center of Admiral Darlan's German-inspired resistance.

Other Landings. American landings were made at Bou-Pfer and Cape Signale some 20 miles west of the port, and at Arzew, 38 miles to the west. Penetration was made rapidly against the lightest resistance. Tabori air base, near Oran, was captured in a brilliant combat team strike in the first hours of the attack.

The French communiqué said Algiers was surrounded by coastal batteries had been overwhelmed and American assault forces had penetrated into the city.

No attacks were reported in the Constantine area—far eastern Algeria—or French Tunisia, which lies between Algeria and Libya, but Tunis, the capital of Tunisia, was placed under blackout orders.

Broken by the attack was the 150-year record of friendly French-American diplomatic relations. Pierre Laval's pro-German collaborationist government notified the United States yesterday that diplomatic relations were severed.

Washington received the word with evident indifference.

Rome began to see its fate. An Italian radio commentator said "The horizon is black for Italy—We must expect attacks from any quarter."

Hitler Sues Writing on Wall. Even Adolf Hitler seemed at last to be discerning the writing on the wall when he declared last night in his Munich beer hall address that he would not "go abroad if things go wrong," as the Kaiser did, but would face it out to the bitter end.

He tacitly conceded the allies' initiative but said he would strike back "in due time."

From Egypt, Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's army of the Nile reported.

"Pursuit of the remnants of the panzer army into Libya continued throughout yesterday. Some hostile elements while were still holding out at Matruh (104 miles west of the old El Alamein line) capitulated yesterday. Many prisoners were collected yesterday, including the commander of the Pavia division."

British and American planes blasted on relentlessly at Rommel's fleeing tank forces and his disordered lines of supply.

"Enemy air activity was negligible," the British declared, "and columns of retreating transports were left without protection from our continuous fighter attacks."

Nazi Broadcasts Glum. German broadcasts were glum. The best light that the Berlin commentators were able to put on the retreat to Libya was that Rommel's armored force or what remained of it—had escaped encirclement.

Sick and Convalescent. Billy Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy of Dawson, underwent a tonsillectomy at the Waters Clinic Monday.

Mrs. Lee Bonner of Eureka underwent a major operation at the Sparks Clinic in Dallas Sunday. She is reported doing nicely.

TEXAN LEADS U. S. FORCES IN AMERICAN LANDINGS—Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower (above), chief of America's European land forces, heads the "powerful American forces," which the White House announced were landing on the Mediterranean and Atlantic coasts of the French Colonies in Africa. General Eisenhower was born at Denison, Texas.

ment. This scrap of consolation was paid for dearly by Italy. Six of her infantry divisions, the Trento, Pavia, Bologna, Brescia, Polvere, and Trieste, were callously abandoned without food, water and transport by Rommel and were rounded up by the British virtually without resistance.

Many of them crowded around British tanks asking where to go for safety, and were directed off to the East under their own officers to surrender to mop-up units.

The Italian high command skimped on the story of the retreat and took what consolation it could in a claim—unsupported from any allied source—that its submarines had attacked a large British-American convoy off the Algerian coast, hitting one cruiser.

A Vichy broadcast heard in Switzerland said Italian planes attempted a raid on Gibraltar but encountered British and American fighter defenses.

Russians Watching. The Russians watched the developing offensive in Africa closely, hopeful of any relief, and their armies held on as stubbornly as ever in the ruins of Stalingrad and the snow-swept slopes of the Caucasus.

Rec. Army tanks were said to have smashed German efforts to get their stalled drive under way again in the Natchik region at the approach to the Caucasus passes where the nazis have been held virtually to a standstill since Nov. 2.

New German attacks on Stalingrad were reported beaten off, but these were on only a small scale. The Berlin radio broadcast a Heinkel dispatch that 45 persons were killed and 125 injured yesterday in a noon raid on the Finnish capital by Russian bombers.

Flying Fortresses. American Flying Fortresses followed up their Saturday raid on the Nazi U-boat base at Brest, on the French coast, with another heavy blow yesterday to Hitler's war machine by battering the important locomotive works at Lille. The German air force was also hit by a heavy bomber raid on the city.

The British admiralty announced that two U-boats were sunk and several others probably damaged by the mixed allied fighter squadrons in the North Atlantic where the submarines attacked a convoy. The admiralty did not mention any losses.

A special German war bulletin said 16 allied ships totaling 103,000 tons had been sunk—but as usual gave few details of time or place by which the claim could be checked.

On the west coast, Vichy reported that the landing field at Rabat had been evacuated.

With the fall of Algiers, where the anti-British commander of all Vichy's armed forces, Admiral Jean Darlan, himself gave the cease-fire order, a French broadcast said the defenses of North Africa had been split.

LEGISLATION ON WHEAT PENALTY IS UPHELD BY COURT

CONSIDERED OF FAR REACHING IMPORTANCE BY ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The supreme court held constitutional today legislation imposing a 40-cent per bushel penalty on wheat produced and sold in excess of agricultural adjustment administration quotas.

Justice Jackson delivered the opinion on a challenge of the 1941 legislation by a group of Montana county (O) wheat growers. The litigation was considered of far-reaching importance by the Roosevelt administration.

The legislation, passed by Congress May 26, increased the penalty on the excess over AAA quotas from 15 to 40 cents per bushel and prevented the sale or use on the farm of any wheat produced until the penalty had been paid.

This legislation was an amendment to the 1938 Agricultural Adjustment Act which authorized the secretary of agriculture to fix prices restricting the marketing of basic farm products.

"The penalty provided by the amendment," Justice Jackson said, "can be post-paid or avoided only by storing the farm marketing excess according to regulations promulgated by the secretary or by delivering it to him without compensation. The penalty is incurred and becomes due on threshing."

"Thus the penalty was contingent upon an act which appellees (the wheat farmers) committed not before but after the enactment of a statute, and had he chosen to cut his excess and cure it or feed it as hay, or to reap and feed it with the land and straw together, no penalty would have been demanded. Such manner of consumption is not uncommon."

"Only when he threshed and then marketed a part of the bulk of wheat overhauling the market did he become subject to penalty."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to review a decision dismissing a petition by the Labor Board seeking to have the Express Publishing Company of San Antonio, Texas, held in contempt for alleged refusal to bargain collectively in good faith with the Newspaper Guild.

Dismissal of the petition was ordered by the Federal Circuit court at New Orleans on the ground that the Labor Board's allegations of contempt were not sustained by the evidence.

The Labor Board contended that the newspaper company had failed to carry out a previous decree by the circuit court directing collective bargaining with the Guild.

Germans Claim Allied Vessels Hit by Planes

BERLIN, (From German Broadcast) Nov. 9.—(AP)—The German high command asserted today that German and Italian planes have been in action against British and American vessels off Algiers since Friday night and that so far six allied warships and four merchantmen have been hit by bombs.

The war bulletin said that in addition a German U-boat scored a torpedo hit on a British cruiser of the Leander class in an attack in the Western Mediterranean.

"Anglo-American naval units and troop transports in the waters north of Algiers have been attacked by German and Italian bomber formations since Nov. 6 by day and night," the communiqué said.

"According to reports available so far, heavy-caliber bombs hit six enemy men of war and four merchantmen."

In the Egyptian desert fighting the high command said a German command which was temporarily cut off had fought its way through the British 8th Army to rejoin Marshal Rommel's main forces.

This formation was credited with capture of a large number of British motor cars and with inflicting heavy casualties upon the allied forces in three days of fighting.

In the area of Matruh the high command reported that nazi battle planes destroyed several British tanks and dispersed motor columns.

Ohio Couple Wed Here Saturday Eve

The First Christian Church was the scene Saturday night for the wedding of Miss Grace Davis Evans of Lakewood, Ohio, and Aviation Cadet James Robert Lott of Avon Lake, Ohio.

The Rev. Robert F. Bristol officiated at the ring ceremony. The bride wore a gown of white silk with royal accessories. Cadet William R. MacElroy of North Caldwell, New Jersey, attended the couple.

"Nothing is known authoritatively about the position of Admiral Darlan," he said.

May Act Against Tunisia. Action against Tunisia apparently was expected. That part of colonial France, which might be vulnerable now to land or sea attack, was ordered blacked out and Vichy radio stations had been conferred at length with the governor, Admiral Jean Estève, at Tunis.

Despite this Vichy indication that North Africa was rallying behind Marshal Petain's decision to fight, the French people received their first news of the American landings in North Africa early yesterday morning in a brief announcement by the Vichy radio.

Bern, Switzerland, Nov. 9.—(AP)—French dispatches said today that Switzerland would handle United States interests in Vichy, now that the Petain government has severed diplomatic relations with Washington.

GASOLINE RATIONING

1. Applications for rationing book must be filed at the nearest elementary school on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday, Nov. 12-14. Actual rationing begins Nov. 22.
2. Motorist will be issued an "A" rationing book, good for approximately 240 miles of driving each month. Individuals engaged in occupations necessitating more mileage can make application for such before a special commission to be in session at each of the schools during the periods of registration.
3. Application blanks can be secured at service stations, tire dealers, or the Chamber of Commerce.
4. No ration book will be issued if the car owner has more than five tires per vehicle in his possession at the time of registration. Excess tires can be disposed of at the local Railway Express Agency.
5. No applications will be received at the central office of the rationing board.
6. Motorist must produce their certificate of registration to their automobile before they will be issued a ration book. The serial number of the ration book must be written on the certificate of registration at the time the book is issued. A copy from the tax collectors office will suffice.

MURRAY LAYS DOWN BASIS TERMS LABOR UNITY IN AMERICA

By JOE LOFTUS

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Philip Murray, keynoting the fifth CIO convention, laid down today what he called the basic terms of labor unity in the United States and asked John L. Lewis for holding a "pewee."

Without mentioning Lewis by name, he said the former CIO chief had the "bonafides of fat rabbits."

Labor unity, Murray said, must mean a policy of appeasement and it must guarantee the abolition of racial discrimination.

Disclaiming all personal political ambition, Murray said his prime interest was in achieving a real unity, and not a policy of appeasement. The interests of the CIO, and the individual must be protected.

Speaking with a slow, measured deliberation, the CIO chief added: "It is wise to remember that any kind of unity must needs comprehend the complete abolition of all forms of racial discrimination."

A packed hotel ball room vigorously applauded Murray's obvious reference to the practice of some AFL unions which deny membership to negroes.

Bey of Tunis is Told U. S. Troops Hope Pass His Way

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has notified the Bey of Tunis that the American armed forces in North Africa hope to pass through French Tunisia, apparently to strike eastward toward the French forces now retreating from Egypt.

The White House disclosed today that the message had been delivered Saturday night to the Bey, Sidi Moncef Pacha, and that it assented at that point.

"The indomitable and massive American armed forces which I am dispatching to North Africa in collaboration with the forces of France, will cooperate with you in the defense of your country. They have no other aim than the early destruction of our common enemies."

"They and their allies hope for the great privilege of passage through Tunisia, thus enabling them to accomplish their mission—the elimination of the forces of evil from North Africa."

Tunisia is a French protectorate lying between Algiers, which American troops already have entered, and Italian-controlled Libya. The Bey is the nominal governor of Tunisia.

The message to him was transmitted through Admiral Jean Pierre Estève, French resident general in Tunisia.

While the Chief Executive's message was couched in friendly, polite terms, it could be regarded as a sort of ultimatum to let United States forces go through Tunisia.

There was no explanation of the President's reference to collaboration with the forces of France, although this government had appealed to the French to cooperate with the American troops toward the ultimate goal of freeing the French colonies from the threat of the axis.

STIFF OPPOSITION TO CONGRESSIONAL HIGH COMMAND ACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Proposals for a joint house and senate "high command" committee to conduct the war effort were confronted today with the prospect of stiff opposition from the Democratic leadership.

An unofficial, but authoritative, reporter said the major leadership would resist "and make it stick," any attempt on the part of the Republicans to form a liaison committee between congress and the administration's war agencies.

The Democratic spokesman, declining use of his name, declared that the committee would result only in "glowing down" the war effort, and maintained that the regular committees—military, naval and appropriations—were functioning efficiently.

But, despite that opposition, a move for the formation of such a committee, originally advocated by Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) to co-ordinate strength with the Republican election resurgence.

House Refuses to Accept Senate's Year of Training

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The house refused to go on record today in favor of a senate proposal that teen-age drafted soldiers be given one year of training before being sent into combat.

The action left the house of representatives in a position to accept compulsory training amendments written by the senate into legislation lowering the draft age from 20 to 18 years.

The action left the house of representatives free to work out any compromise they could effect with the senate and bring it back to a house for ratification, and indications were the conferees would recommend elimination of the state provision, which the President and the War and Navy departments have opposed.

While the vote was not specifically on acceptance or rejection of the senate amendment, it was tantamount to that another record vote in prospect later in the week if the conferees recommend that the house stand pat on its original decision not to consider such a proposal.
